

We can use f key to focus on a object

In this module we came to know about new property for sphere name as rigid body

This component give a physics law to that object it will behave according as a real time environment

In rigid body component we were having property such as mass,gravity,drag we can adjust then to get a desire a movement in a object

